Preferential voting

In case of many candidates for a position, elimination voting can be very time consuming. An alternative is preferential voting with Borda count, which requires to cast only one vote. An explanation of the method can be found here

Explanation on majorities:

simple majorities require more votes in favour than against a proposal (blank votes don't count); qualified majorities require more than half of the total number of votes in favour of a proposal (blank votes count). The same principle applies if 2/3 or 3/4 majorities are required. [§5]

(Simpelt flertal: Flere stemmer for end imod. Anvendes typisk i situationer, hvor der skal vælges mellem to forslag. Ved mere end to forslag, foretages eliminationsafstemning indtil et forslag har simpelt flertal over de resterende.

Kvalificeret flertal: Mere end 50 % af de stemmeberettigede stemmer for.)

Elimination vote:

In case of a decision with more than two alternative proposals, the proposals with the least votes are eliminated one by one until only two alternatives are remaining. [§5.18]

A proposal that wins a qualified majority during the elimination process is accepted automatically. [§5.18.1]
